SUBJECT INDEX TO VOLUME XXIII

A-B-C rule in forceps and version, 741
Abdominal, conditions, Diagnosis and management of pregnancy in the presence of acute, 660; pregnancy, 338; section, Delivery by, 461; surgery, Notes on the past, present, and future of gynecology, obstetrics, and, 290
Abductor hallucis tendon, Transplantation of the, in the surgical treatment for hallux valgus, 626
Age, The relation of arteriosclerosis and other anatomical changes of old, to the development of epithelial malignancy; a study of 206 cases of carcinomata, 413
Ageneses, Teratogenesis of a human athoracic, acephalic, acardiac triplet with numerous, 38
American College of Surgeons, 744
Amputation of the foot, An operation for the correction of deformity following Chopart's, 476
Anastomosis, The application of the sewing machine stitch in gastric and intestinal, 489
Anæsthesia, local, Technique for suprapubic prostatectomy under, 725; Perineal, in labor, 615
Anoci-association, The application of, to obstetrics; the combined use of scopolamine nitrous-oxide-oxygen, and local infiltration, 612
Appendicitis, The Bastedo sign in chronic, 538; Perforation in typhoid fever; with report of a case associated with acute typhoid, in a child aged 7; recovery, 451
Appendix, Pseudomyxomatous cysts of the; and ruptured pseudomucinous ovarian cyst, 219
Arteriosclerosis and other anatomical changes of old age, The relation of, to the development of epithelial malignancy; a study of 206 cases of carcinomata, 413
Articular end of bone, The transplantation of the, including the epiphyseal cartilage line, 301
Athoracic, acephalic, acardiac triplet, with numerous ageneses, Teratogenesis of a human, 38

BACK, Traumas of the, and spine, 332, tr. 366
Bastedo sign in chronic appendicitis, 538
Bile-Duct, common, The transpancreatic approach to the; transpancreatic choledochotomy, 14; Calcified glands proximal to the; cysticoduodenal ligament; case report, 718
Birth-control, The beginnings of the movement, 185, tr. 234; Some practical aspects of, 188, tr. 234
Bladder, Rupture of the, associated with fracture of pelvis; with bibliography and report of one case, 55; Diathermy in malignant tumors of the, 223; surgery, Seven diagrams illustrating the use of fat transplantation in kidney and, 227; Fluoroscopic roentgen injection of the, 361; A, suture, 364; Diverticula of the urinary, 378; A study of exstrophy of the, with report of a case five years after implantation of the ureters into the rectum, 702; Cystography; its value and limitations in surgery of the, 709
Blood transfusion with paraffin-coated needles and tubes, 621
Bone, and joint disease in relation to typhoid fever, 119; cor., 634; The transplantation of the articular end of, including the epiphyseal cartilage line, 301
Bone-graft, The application of the, in the treatment of partial or complete avulsion of the adolescent tibial tubercle (commonly referred to as Osgood-Schlatter's disease), 353
Bone-grafting, New mechanically and surgically correct method of; comparison of various methods of open treatment of fractures, 554
Brain, Disease, The indications for and results of cerebral and cerebellar decompression in acute and chronic, 163; drain, The wire gauze, 740

CALCULI, Spontaneous exclusion of the kidney from, 375
Calculous prostate, Obstructive, 685
Calculus, Giant ureteral; anomalous development of the genito-urinary tract, 33
Cancer, of the œsophagus and stomach, A contribution to the etiology of, 42; pelvic, An additional contribution to the therapeutic value of radium in, 191; of the uterus, High degrees of heat versus low degrees of heat in the treatment of, 288
Carcinoma of the uterus, The extended operation for, 237
Carcinomata, a study of 206 cases of; The relation of arteriosclerosis and other anatomical changes of old age to the development of epithelial malignancy, 413
Carcinomatous degeneration of sebaceous cysts, 469
Catgut sutures, An improved substitute for iodized; bacteriological tests, 629
Cautery, Is the employment of the actual, in the treatment of chronic ulcer of the stomach a safe procedure, 719
Cerebral and cerebellar decompression in acute and chronic brain disease, The indications for and results of, 153
Chicago Gynecological Society, 632, 750, 755; joint session with Chicago Medical Society, 234
Chicago Surgical Society, 366, 491, 750
Choledochotomy, transpancreatic, The transpancreatic approach to the common bile-duct, 14
Cholelithiasis, The value of the determination of the cholesterol content of the blood in the diagnosis of, 91
Cholesterol content of the blood in the diagnosis of cholelithiasis, The value of the determination of the, 91
Chondroma of the pelvis, 604
Chopart's amputation of the foot, An operation for the correction of deformity following, 476
Chorio-epithelioma, Primary, of fallopian tube following ruptured ectopic gestation, 602
Clamp, An uncomplicated and convenient intestinal anastomosis, 225
Clinical Congress of Surgeons, tr. 113
Colectomy, Some observations concerning postoperative complications of the Lane short circuit and, 539
Curettement, Pituitrin in postabortion, 365
Cylindroma of the tongue with a report of two cases, 356
Cystitis senilis feminarum, 371
Cystocele, The etiology of uterine prolapse and, 7; An abdominal operation for the cure of, 727
Cystography; its value and limitations in surgery of the bladder, 709
Cystoscope, operating, A detachable appliance for the conversion of the, into a double-catheterizing instrument, 490
Cysts, Pseudomyxomatous, of the appendix and ruptured pseudomucinous ovarian cyst, 219; Carcinomatous degeneration of sebaceous, 469; of the kidney, Large solitary and multiple, 688

DECOMPRESSION, The indications for and results of cerebral and cerebellar, in acute and chronic brain disease, 153
Delivery by abdominal section, 461
Dextrocardia, Eventration of the diaphragm and, 344
Diaphragm, Eventration of the, and dextrocardia, 344
Diaphragmatic hernia, 465
Diathermy in malignant tumors of the bladder, 223
Displacements of the uterus, An operation for backward and downward, 618
Diverticula of the urinary bladder, 378
Drain, The wire gauze brain, 740
Drainage, tube, A "paint brush," 109; A new tractor for perineal prostatectomy; a new perineal, 742; a consideration of intranasal, following oral removal; Follicular odontomata of the superior maxilla, 473

ECTOPIA testis transversa with infantile uterus, 597
Ectopic gestation, Primary chorio-epithelioma of fallopian tube following ruptured, 602
Electric light, The use of, and hypochlorous acid in the treatment of wounds, 486
Elephantiasis, Genital, following extirpation of inguinal glands, 214
Endometrium, The relation of the, and ovary to hæmorrhage from myomatous uteri, 68
Endothelioma of the uterus, Perithelioma and, 576, tr. 633
Epididymitis, Surgical treatment of acute, 738
Epiphysis, Separation of the lower femoral, with report of two cases, 147
Epiploitis following herniotomy, 297
Epispadias in the male, An operation for the relief of, 594
Epithelioma, Melano; a report of 70 cases, 28
Eventration of the diaphram and dextrocardia, 344
Excision versus gastro-enterostomy, 21
Exclusion, Spontaneous, of the kidney from calculi, 375
Exstrophy, A study of, of the bladder, with report of a case five years after implantation of the ureters into the rectum, 702
Extremities, Puerperal gangrene of the, 424

FAT, The transplantation of free flaps of; a report of the results obtained in attempts to prevent adhesions and contractures about tendons, nerves, blood-vessels, and joints, to favor repair and to lessen deformity, 163; Seven diagrams illustrating the use of, transplantation in kidney and bladder surgery, 227
Femoral epiphysis, Separation of the lower; with report of two cases, 147
Fibrosis, Unilateral hæmaturia associated with, and multiple microscopic calculi of renal papillæ, 76
Foot, An operation for the correction of deformity following Chopart's amputation of the, 476
Forceps and version, A-B-C rule in, 741
Fractures, The treatment of, by nail extension, 478, tr. 491; of the long bones, Circular constriction in the treatment of, 541; New mechanically and surgically correct method of bone-grafting; comparison of various methods of open treatment of, 554; oblique, The Parham and Martin band in, with remarks upon mechanical appliances versus bone-grafts, 545

GALL-BLADDER, surgery, with especial reference to the postoperative treatment, Observation on 133 cases of, 399; Rupture of the, its cause, prevention, and treatment, 422
Ganglioneuroma, 348
Gangrene, Puerperal, of the extremities, 424
Gas-bacillus infection, surgical bacteriology, 182
Gastric, surgery, The advantage of separate suture of mucous membrane in, 23; and intestinal anastomosis, The application of the sewing machine stitch in, 489
Gastro-enterostomy, Excision versus, 21
Genital, elephantiasis following extirpation of inguinal glands, 214; tuberculosis in the male, The treatment of, 385
Genito-urinary tract, anomalous development of the Giant ureteral calculus, 33
Glands, Calcified, in relation to the common bile-duct, cysticoduodenal ligament, case report, 718
Goiter operations, Preliminary hæmostasis in, 402
Gunshot wounds of peripheral nerves, 639
Gynecological, and obstetrical practice, Syphilitic fever in relation to, 274; Clinic, Observations on the occurrence of syphilis in the University of Michigan Obstetric and, 280
Gynecology, obstetrics, and abdominal surgery, Notes on the past, present, and future of, 290; and neurology, A critical review of the literature pertaining to the relation between, tr. 633

HÆMANGIOMA cavernosum, 591
Hæmaturia, Unilateral, associated with fibrosis and multiple microscopic calculi of the renal papillæ, 76
Hæmorrhage, from myomatous uteri, The relation of the endometrium and ovary to, 68; following prostatectomy, A method of preventing and controlling, 109; uterine, X-ray treatment of, 243
Hæmostasis, Preliminary, in goiter operations, 402
Hallux valgus, Transplantation of the abductor hallucis tendon in the surgical treatment of, 626
Hare-lip operations, Apparatus for use after, 628
Heat, High degrees of, versus low degrees of, in the treatment of cancer of the uterus, 288; stroke, Post-operative, 443
Hernia, Diaphragmatic, 465
Herniotomy, Epiploitis following, 297
Hip, The management of advanced cases of tuberculosis of the, 729
Hydrocele, An unusual, content, 362
Hypochlorous acid, The use of the electric light and, in the treatment of wounds, 486
Hypodermoclysis, continuous, Continual stomach lavage and, in peritonitis, persistent vomiting with dehydration, and dilated stomach; with a description of a modified stomach tube, 483, tr. 491

IMPACTED face presentations, Pubiotomy in, 733
Infection, Gas-bacillus; surgical bacteriology, 182; non-tuberculous renal, The etiology and pathology of, 495
Inguinal glands, Genital elephantiasis following extirpation of, 214
Intestinal anastomosis clamp, An uncomplicated and convenient, 225
Intestine, The process of repair in wounds of the small, 80

JOINT, Bone and, disease in relation to typhoid fever, 119; cor., 634; surfaces, Nails and screws in, 550

KIDNEY, Surgical replacement of the prolapsed, 100; Spontaneous exclusion of the, from calculi, 375; The clinical and pathological evidences of the possibilities of spontaneous healing of renal tuberculosis without total destruction of the, 395; Large solitary and multiple cysts of the, 688; Clinical data with polycystic, 697

LABOR, Perineal anæsthesia in, 615; The leucocytes in pregnancy, and the puerperium, 567, tr. 633
Lane short circuit and colectomy, Some observations concerning postoperative complications of the, 539
Leucocytes in pregnancy, labor, and the puerperium, 567, tr. 633

MALE, An operation for the relief of epispadias in the, 594
Maxilla, Follicular odontomata of the superior, a consideration of intranasal drainage following oral removal, 473
Mechanotherapeutic apparatus, Simple, for military hospitals, 228
Medical examiners, First examination by national board of, cor., 236
Melano-epithelioma, a report of 70 cases, 28
Menopause, A study of the, with special reference to its vasomotor disturbances, 667
Menorrhœa, Purpura hæmorrhagica following, 65
Military hospitals, Simple mechanotherapeutic apparatus for, 228
Mucous membrane, The advantage of separate suture of, in gastric surgery, 23
Murphy, John B. portrait, opposite 237
Muscle, The peripenic, some observations on the anatomy of phimosis, 177

NAILS, and screws in joint surfaces, 550; extension, The treatment of fractures by, 478, tr. 491
Nerves, Gunshot wounds of peripheral, 639
Neurology, A critical review of the literature pertaining to the relation between gynecology and, tr. 633

OBSTETRIC, and gynecologic clinic, Observations on the occurrence of syphilis in the University of Michigan, 280; Syphilitic fever in relation to gynecological and, practice, 274
Obstetrics, and abdominal surgery, Notes on the past, present, and future of gynecology, 290; The application of anoci-association to, the combined use of scopolamine, nitrous-oxide-oxygen and local infiltration, 612
Odontomata, Follicular, of the superior maxilla, a consideration of intranasal drainage following oral removal, 473
Œsophagus and stomach, A contribution to the etiology of cancer of the, 42
Osgood-Schlatter's disease, The application of the bone-graft in the treatment of partial or complete avulsion of the adolescent tibial tubercle, commonly referred to as, 353
Ovaritis, A contribution to the etiological study of, 560, tr. 634
Ovary, The relation of the endometrium and, to hæmorrhage from myomatous uteri, 68

PARHAM and Martin band in oblique fractures with remarks upon mechanical appliances versus bone-grafts, 545
Pelvic, affections complicating pregnancy, The diagnosis and management of, 663; varicocele, 62
Pelvis, Rupture of the bladder associated with fracture of; with bibliography and report of one case, 55; Chondroma of the, 604
Perforation in typhoid fever, with report of a case associated with acute typhoid appendicitis in a child aged 7, recovery, 451
Perineal anæsthesia in labor, 615
Peripenic muscle, some observations on the anatomy of phimosis, 177
Perithelioma and endothelioma of the uterus, 576, tr. 633
Peritonitis, Continual stomach lavage and continuous hypodermoclysis in, persistent vomiting with dehydration, and dilated stomach; with a description of a modified stomach tube, 483, tr. 491
Phimosis, The peripenic muscle, some observations on the anatomy of, 177
Pituitrin in postabortion curettement, 365
Polycystic kidney, Clinical data with, 697
Postoperative, heatstroke, 443; treatment, Observation on 133 cases of gall-bladder surgery with especial reference to the, 399
Precancerous changes in the uterus, 248
Pregnancy, abdominal, 338; Diagnosis and management of acute extrapelvic conditions during, 657; Diagnosis and management of, in the presence of acute abdominal conditions, 660; Diagnosis and management of pelvic affections complicating, 663; The leucocytes in, labor, and the puerperium, 567
Prolapse and cystocele, The etiology of uterine, 7
Prolapsed, kidney, Surgical replacement of the, 100; rectum, A simple technique for resection of the, 225
Prostate, Obstructive calculous, 685; Rhabdomyoma of the, 341
Prostatectomy, A method of preventing and controlling hæmorrhage following, 109; Technique for suprapubic, under local anæsthesia, 725; A new tractor for perineal, a new perineal drainage tube, 742
Pseudomyxomatous cysts of the appendix and ruptured pseudomucinous ovarian cyst, 219
Pubiotomy in impacted face presentations, 733
Puerperal gangrene of the extremities, 424
Puerperium, The leucocytes in pregnancy, labor, and the, 567, tr. 633
Purpura hæmorrhagica following menorrhœa, 65

RADIUM in pelvic cancers, An additional contribution to the therapeutic value of, 191
Rectum, A simple technique for resection of the prolapsed, 225
Renal, infections, The etiology and pathology of non-tuberculous, 495; papillæ, Unilateral hæmaturia associated with fibrosis and multiple microscopic calculi of the, 76; tuberculosis, The clinical and pathological evidences of the possibilities of spontaneous healing of, without total destruction of the kidney, 395; tuberculosis, The treatment of fatty capsule and the ureter in nephrectomy for, 391
Repair, The process of, in wounds of the small intestine, 80
Rhabdomyoma of the prostate, 341
Roentgen, Fluoroscopic, injection of the bladder, 361
Rupture of the bladder associated with fracture of the pelvis; with bibliography and report of one case, 55; of the gall-bladder, its cause, prevention, and treatment, 422; of the uterus, External incomplete, following subperitoneal hæmorrhage, tr. 632

SARCOMA of the scapula; histological diagnosis made by study of blood aspirated from pulsating portion of the tumor, 74
Scapula, Sarcoma of the, histological diagnosis made by study of blood aspirated from pulsating portion of the tumor, 74
Scopolamine, nitrous-oxide-oxygen and local infiltration, The application of anoci-association to obstetrics, the combined use of, 612
Sebaceous cysts, Carcinomatous degeneration of, 469

Sewing machine stitch, The application of the, in gastric and intestinal anastomosis, 489
Short circuit, Lane, and colectomy, Some observations concerning postoperative complications of the, 539
Shoulder presentations, Spontaneous evolution in, 620
Spine, Traumas of the back and, 332, tr. 366
Splenectomy, The technique of, 1
Spontaneous evolution in shoulder presentations, 620
Sterility with the end-results, A detailed study of the pathological causes of, 261
Sterilization, Simple, of women by cautery stricture at the intra-uterine tubal openings, compared with other methods, 203, tr. 234
Stitch, Sewing Machine, The application of the, in gastric and intestinal anastomosis, 489
Stomach, a contribution to the etiology of cancer of the œsophagus and, 42; Is the employment of the actual cautery in the treatment of chronic ulcer of the, a safe procedure, 719; Continual, lavage and continuous hypodermoclysis in peritonitis, persistent vomiting, with dehydration, and dilated stomach, with a description of a modified stomach tube, 483, tr. 491
Suture, A bladder, 364
Symphysis pubis separation, Wiring through the obturator foramen for; four-inch separation of the symphysis pubis, protrusion of bladder between the separated bones, ankylosis of the sacro-iliac joints; invalidism; failure of postural and supportive measures; restoration of pelvic girdle by wiring through the obturator foramen, 625
Syphilis, of the body of the uterus, 268; Observations on the occurrence of, in the University of Michigan Obstetric and Gynecologic clinic, 280
Syphilitic fever in relation to gynecological and obstetrical practice, 274

TERATOGENESIS of a human athoracic, acephalic, acardiac triplet, with numerous ageneses, 38
Tibial tubercle, The application of the bone-graft in the treatment of partial or complete avulsion of the adolescent (commonly referred to as Osgood-Schlatter's disease), 353
Tongue, Cylindroma of the, with a report of two cases, 356
Tractor, A new, for perineal prostatectomy, a new perineal drainage tube, 742
Transfusion, Blood, with paraffin-coated needles and tubes, 621
Transpancreatic choledochotomy, The transpancreatic approach to the common bile-duct, 14
Transplantation of free flaps of fat; a report of the results obtained in attempts to prevent adhesions and contractures about tendons, nerves, blood-vessels, and joints, to favor repair and to lessen deformity, 163; of the articular end of bone including the epiphyseal cartilage line, 301; fat, Seven diagrams illustrating the use of, in kidney and bladder surgery, 227; of the abductor hallucis tendon in the surgical treatment of hallux valgus, 626
Traumas of the back and spine, 332, tr. 366
Tubal openings, Simple sterilization of women by cautery stricture at the intra-uterine, compared with other methods, 203, tr. 234
Tube, Primary chorio-epithelioma of fallopian, following ruptured ectopic gestation, 602
Tuberculosis, in the male, The treatment of genital, 385; renal, The treatment of the fatty capsule and the ureter in nephrectomy for, 391; renal, The clinical and pathological evidences of the possibilities of spontaneous healing of, without total destruction of the kidney, 395; of the hip, The management of advanced cases of, 720
Tumors of the bladder, Diathermy in malignant, 223
Typhoid fever, Bone and joint disease in relation to, 119; cor., 634; Perforation in; with report of a case associated with acute typhoid appendicitis in a child aged 7, recovery, 451

ULCER of the stomach, Is the employment of the actual cautery in the treatment of chronic, a safe procedure, 719
Ureter, The treatment of the fatty capsule and the, in nephrectomy for renal tuberculosis, 391
Ureteral, Giant, calculus; anomalous development of the genito-urinary tract, 33
Uterine, The etiology of, prolapse and cystocele, 7
Urethrotomy, Technique of, 743
Urinary bladder, Diverticula of the, 378
Uterine hæmorrhage, X-ray treatment of, 243
Uterus, The extended operation for carcinoma of the, 237; Precancerous changes in the, 248; Syphilis of the body of the, 268; High degrees of heat versus low degrees of heat in the treatment of cancer of the, 288; Perithelioma and endothelioma of the, 576, tr. 633; Ectopia testis transversa with infantile, 597; An operation for backward and downward displacements of the, 618; External incomplete rupture of the, following subperitoneal hæmorrhage, tr. 632

VARICOCELE, Pelvic, 62
Vasomotor disturbances, A study of the menopause, with special reference to its, 667
Version, A-B-C rule in forceps and, 741
Vomiting, persistent, Continual stomach lavage and continuous hypodermoclysis in peritonitis, with dehydration and dilated stomach, with a description of a modified stomach tube, 483

WASSERMANN reaction, The specificity of the, 284
Women, Simple sterilization of, by cautery stricture at the intra-uterine tubal openings, compared with other methods, 203, tr. 234
Wounds, Gunshot, of peripheral nerves, 639; The use of electric light and hypochlorous acid in the treatment of, 486; Primary treatment of, in civil practice, 144; of the small intestine, The process of repair in, 80

X-RAY treatment of uterine hæmorrhage, 243
